

Novacyt Case Study

01

To start can you tell us your name and job title?

Kay Campbell, HR Advisor at the Novacyt Group.

02

Could you give a short description of what your organisation does?

Novacyt is a growing, international diagnostics group, which specialise in diagnostic and pathogen testing kits based on molecular and protein testing technologies and sold into human clinical, life science, food and industrial markets.

03

What was your motivation for working with CK?

Received great feedback on the quality of candidates they provide other businesses.

04

Can you describe how CK has been able to help you and your company?

Working with CK Technical during a pandemic where our company were extremely busy with recruitment due to our field of work. CK Technical took charge in finding us a vast amount of good quality candidates. The speed in which they work helped us immensely and their professionalism has been perfect.

05

What sets CK apart from other suppliers?

Consistent professionalism, they show a clear passion for what they do, and the quality of candidates sent over to us made it extremely hard to shortlist. They absorbed the brief of our job descriptions and made us feel like we were being provided with a tailored service.

06

If possible, please leave a short statement to summarise your experience working with CK

Our experience with working with CK technical has been the ideal recruitment experience. They have been nothing but helpful during the recruitment process. I would like to personally thank Jonathan, Phoebe, George and Emily for working collectively for providing us with fantastic candidates, the speed at which you have worked has been impressive and Novacyt will no doubt be using your services again. Our company has been at the forefront of COVID-19 and the service you have provided us has eased some of the pressure that we have been under.

“Our experience with working with CK technical has been the ideal recruitment experience.”
